

Chester /Rostrenen Exchange teachers

Elaine. So Emanuelle tell me about this exchange visit that's been set up.

Emanuelle. We set up an exchange fourteen years ago with Notre Dame de Compostal and it started between myself and Madame Rodallec. We started setting up an exchange fourteen years ago and we've been coming up ever since. I've changed schools but our friendship kept the exchange going and we send students from year 10 mostly and they spend a week and they stay with Breton families. They exchange the culture, they have a go at Breton dancing and they get to do fabulous trips to beautiful towns and the coast.

Elaine. Brilliant, So how many students have you brought with you today ? They're all girls aren't they ?

Emanuelle. This year we have eleven students, yes. They're all girls because we don't.... we come from a girls' school, so the Queen's School in Chester which is a girls' private school So, yes, they're all girls.

Elaine. And this is the first time these particular students have come to Brittany ?

Emanuelle. Yes it is, yes..... no, no, no, not true. Three of them have been here before on holiday with their families.

Isabelle. So we try to have local activities or a bit further away well, day trips I would say.

Emanuelle. Ya, ya.

Isabelle. We try to be imaginative because every time Emanuelle or myself go to England or France we try to be imaginative..... ..

Emanuelle. We change the trips, we change the excursions....

Isabelle. Not to be too boring.....

Emanuelle. Yes, that's right, yeah. They're very excited because on Saturday we are all going to a Fest Noz, so we had a rehearsal today. We had a go at Breton dances, Isabelle's students kindly taught us a couple of very good Breton dances so we are ready for Saturday night.

Elaine. Where's that ?

Isabelle. In Spezet.

Elaine. Ah, OK, yes. That'll be a long evening. Well enjoy the rest of your stay here Emanuelle.

Emanuelle. We will do, thank you very much.

Elaine. Isabelle, enjoy the rest of their visit.

Isabelle. Thank you.

Elaine. And, uh, you know, I hope they all come back at some point.

Emanuelle. Yes, thank you.

Isabelle. Thank you very much.
